Celebrating Nebraska's Statehood

2017 Heartland Storytelling Festival

Homestead National Monument of America will present Storytelling Sessions at 9:30 am, 10:30 am, noon and 1:00 pm. Call to reserve your spot for your school or group.

Joel Gajardo

His stories are told in both English and Spanish. Students will be engaged in telling their own stories leading to a discussion of values.

Rosie Cutrer

Visiting from Kansas, Rosie will take you back to the pioneer times and delight all with her collection of everyday tools and toys from yesteryear.

Darrin Crow

Hailing from across the mighty Missouri in Iowa Darrin's yarns will take you back to a time when immigrants were settling the Midwest.

Students can also come on a virtual field trip through Distance Learning. (Limited Space)

Lunch break at 11:30 a.m. (bring sack lunches). Register for one storyteller or come for all three! All programs are Free!! for everyone. To reserve space for your classroom, call Homestead National Monument of America at 402-223-3514 or email home_education@nps.gov
